

HANNAH BINGMAN & DOUG McMINN

Two musical veterans, one young and one old, have joined forces to put a fresh spin on acoustic music. Hannah Bingman (vocals and guitar) and Doug McMinn (vocals, guitar and clarinet) are brewing up a flavorful mixture of blues and roots music that is sure to please your palate.

Hannah is a seasoned performer and songwriter who has played her music all over the east. She has opened for Christine Lavin, Jeffrey Gaines, Michael Glabicki and a host of other top performers while releasing three CDs of original music. Her most recent album, "Right, Right Now" was chosen as one of the best releases of 2005 by George Graham of WVIA TV and Radio.

Doug has had a long and colorful career as both leader and sideman, playing with dozens of bands in the Central Pennsylvania area, starting with the Killer Bees Swing Band back in the 1980's.

He has jammed on stage with blues luminaries ranging from Saffire - the Uppity Blues Women and E.G. Kight to Lonnie Shields and Big Jack Johnson, and has been featured on several CDs, including the AAA Blues Band's "High Water" and "Black-n-Blues" by Williamsport's own Black'n'Blues. Over the years he has amassed a thick songbook of compositions as well. Hannah and Doug's repertoire ranges from the Mississippi Delta to the smoky jazz clubs of the urban north. The duo moves from funky and down home to sophisticated and jazzy at the drop of a hat, mixing high quality original songs with old favorites.
